

"The Chimneys" at Famous "Breaks"

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
 TREELING, VA., December 18.— Dickenson county hosts a great natural curiosity in the famous "Breaks" of Cumberland Mountain. This is the point at which the waters of the upper course of Big Sandy River "break" through this chain of mountains, being at their northern extremity. The waters of the entire county flow through the breaks, which make a considerable volume for a mountain stream. The principal points of attraction at the Breaks are the "Chimneys" and the "Towers." There is only one way of access to the Chimneys, and this is over a very rough and narrow walkway along the mountain, whose top seems to be a mass of rocks of many sizes and irregular shapes. From the dizzy height of the Chimneys the waters of the stream are to be seen in a wildly seething and surging state. The distance from the Chimneys to the water is from 1,200 to 1,500 feet, almost a perpendicular descent. The Towers is at the extreme end of the mountain. This is an elevation similar to the Chimneys, except that it is level on top. Many points over the way at first appear impassable to the timid. The climber's weight must be supported by the bushes which grow along the way from the crevices and dirt which has found lodgment between the rocks. When a railroad is built through Dickenson county, its course will have to follow the river through the Breaks, as this is the only practicable route—one seemingly designed by nature.

Kerlin-Boehm.

A Poem of Penelope

Who had Pimples, But Was Made Pretty by the Simple Use of Stuart's Calcium Wafer.

(A Trial Package Sent Free.)
 Every one speaks of Penelope now As Pretty Penelope Brown; And you see every day the people who say,
 "She's the prettiest girl in town."
 Her skin is so fair, and golden her hair,
 And her face never harbors a frown.
 There was a time no one ever spoke
 Of Pretty Penelope Brown, Although she had pimples, she likewise had plums, Which made her continually frown.
 And she never was gay, but would cry every day,
 Would poor Miss Penelope Brown.
 But she read in a paper one day,
 Did Miss Penelope Brown
 She read in a paper of the CALCIUM WAFER.
 And her face wore no longer a frown;
 And now every day you can hear people say,
 "That Pretty Penelope Brown." Every pimple has gone from the face
 Of Pretty Penelope Brown, STUART'S CALCIUM WAFER showed Escape by the road of the frown; For frown and the pimples no more mar the dimples
 Of Pretty Penelope Brown.

It is a disheartening task to try to be pretty with the face pimply and blotched with unsightly eruptions. The very sweetest and prettiest face must always be at a disadvantage with such untoward conditions, and it is too bad.
 Powder and lotions deceive no one.
 The pimples are there, and are bound to be in evidence.
 Of course, the blood is out of order, and the one and only thing to do is to put it in order. The CALCIUM WA-FER is a blood cleaner, purifier and invigorator, and when it has once done its work the whole system is bettered, and the skin has participated in the betterment and become smooth, pimply and satiny.
 It does not take so very long to see the beneficial effects of the WAFFERS; even the free trial package makes a fair showing for improvement and better things. This, followed by a few more packages, sometimes one or two are enough, results in a complete cure. There is nothing mysterious or magical about these wafers; they are simply a powerful, forceful blood purifier, which accomplish only what they are made to do.
 If you are troubled with pimples, blotches, breaking out either on face or body, it is a plain indication that your blood needs treatment; these are the signs, the flags of distress, that the most obtuse are able to interpret.
 After the trial treatment, which will give you an idea what they are—what they look like and what they taste like—get your further supply from your druggist; he will charge you 50 cents a box, but for the trial package

LIQUOR QUESTION INTERESTS MANY

Question of State-wide Will Probably Be Delayed Until 1912.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
 LOVINGSTON, VA., December 18.— Nelson people appear deeply interested in the result of the poll of the members of the new Legislature on the liquor question which was made by The Times-Dispatch, and announced in last Sunday's issue. Although there are a great many State-wide prohibitionists in the county, it is believed that they will be satisfied to wait until the Legislature of 1912 for a bill submitting the question for settlement by the voters at large. No move has been made in this section of the state looking to the getting up of petitions, and it is the opinion of many that the question will not be pressed, in the face of the apparent sentiment among the Senators and members-elect in favor of the principle of local option as against State-wide prohibition.
 Again it is thought that if the Anti-Saloon League contemplated setting up petitions it would most likely be at work along that line now, as the Legislature will meet in less than a month. In answering the inquiry sent out by The Times-Dispatch on the subject, the Nelson delegation divided.
 Senator Strode answering in favor of State-wide prohibition and Delegate Whitehead for local option. As the matter was not in issue when these men were elected, their answers may be taken rather as their individual views than those of their constituents.
 Sentiment is sharply divided between the two propositions, and advocates of each claim a majority of the voters.

May Patronize Richmond Market.
 Because of the fact that prices are much lower than usual at this season of the year but few of the farmers of Nelson have marketed their tobacco, while many of them, dissatisfied with new conditions in Lynchburg, are threatening to try the Richmond market. There was a time, many years ago, when nearly all the tobacco raised in this productive belt went to Richmond, but recently Lynchburg has been getting the great bulk of it. New conditions in the Hill City have set the farmers to thinking, and Richmond is being seriously considered by them as their future tobacco market. Some time last year all the warehouses in Lynchburg consolidated under the name of the Lynchburg Tobacco Warehouse Company, Incorporated, and following consolidation the prices of tobacco went down. Very probably prices were not affected by the combination of the four independent warehouses, but unfortunately there is a suspicion lurking in the minds of numerous growers that it would have been better for them had there been no consolidation. This topic is being more widely discussed by the farmers of Nelson at present than any other, and it is known that a number of them are now in correspondence with Richmond commission merchants, with the view of shipping their crops, to that market this year.

Certain portions of Nelson county, along the creeks and rivers next to the mountains, produce high-priced tobacco, and those who raise it depend almost entirely upon it for what money they handle. There is no association of tobacco-growers in Nelson, and no well-defined understanding about a general shipment to Richmond, but individuals are taking the matter up, and some of them have gone so far as to order the empty hogheads from the capital city.
